

Insuring

A quick guide to event service styles.

Planning and paying for an event is an investment of time and money.

We recommend a special event (or one-day) insurance policy to insure your event investment against unforeseen circumstances.

These policies typically start with liability insurance and have added options for cancellations, weather, rings, cakes, dresses, etc. This type of insurance offers protection for organizations, individuals, groups, bands, friends, clubs, religious entities, and companies that host activities that are not included in their General Liability Policy, and are required at or by the facility, auditorium, park, city or state authorities.

Premiums vary based on the overall cost of the event. Your regular insurance provider may offer special event insurance.

There are several links below to companies that offer policies to protect your investment:

